Latest Foreign Intelligence.

NEW-YORK, February 4.

We are indebted to Mr. Anderson, passenger in the ship Kingston, from London, for papers as late as the 4th of December; and to a mercantile friend for Lloyd's List and Price Current, to the 30th Nov. From these prints, we have made the extracts which appear interesting.

The news of the disastrous occurrences at St. Domingo, had reached France; but what effect it had on the government is not stated.

The First Consul, at his palace at St. Cloud, had received the congratulations of the constituted authorities and armed force, on his return. A London paper mentions the address as marked with a strain of fulsome compliment. It would seem from one of these addresses, that it is the intention of the First Consul to visit all France.

A London paper of the 28th November, speaking of America, says:

"Every British Statesman must now be aware of the great importance of maintaining a good understanding with the U. States of America. The two countries may be so mutually serviceable, or so mutually mischievous to each other, that the utmost pains should be employed to cultivate not only peace, but to improve every sentiment of kindness and affection. The French, it is well known, make every exertion to obtain a party in America, hostile to England. In appointing a minister to the United States it, therefore, is of the utmost importance to send a man qualified to improve our interests with the government and the people of that country; one who will conciliate their affections and esteem, as far as his personal character, and his personal communication with them, can extend. Mr. Otto is to be the French envoy."

LONDON, December 4.

We received this morning the Monitor of Tuesday last. It contains no intelligence of any importance. Persevering in its usual system of attacking this country, it has extracted from another Paris Journal, a silly dialogue between an Englishman and a lover of the English, upon the English constitution. The object of it is to prove that we have no written constitution, and that we cannot ourselves describe what our constitution is. The French have a written constitution to be found in their books and nowhere else.

The French Funds are 53.

A special commission is preparing to try the persons apprehended in Oakley-street, Lambeth, for high treason, at Guilford, in Surrey, in the country in which they are supposed to have committed the offence. Other persons, implicated in the same conspiracy, will be tried at the Old Bailey, by a special commission also.

Lord Whitworth's introduction to the First Consul will take place next Monday, when a Consular Review and a grand levee will be held.

Mr. Merry will probably take his departure from Paris very soon. He is destined to meet M. Otto in America.

From a recent decision, which took place at Brett, it appears, that the French are determined, if we persist in our Navigation Act, to have theirs. By the Navigation Act of England, foreign vessels are not allowed to enter the port of London with any other produce than that of the countries to which they respectively belong. France, it appears, has resolved to adopt the same principle. An English vessel, bringing a cargo of iron from Petersburg to Brett, has been declared contraband.

The account which we yesterday gave of the sudden dismissal from Paris of Count Stahremberg, by an order from the French Government, has excited much comment, as well as surprise. As this information seems to be doubted by some of our ignorant contemporaries, we think it necessary to say, that we pledge ourselves for its authenticity.—Sun.

A Dutch Mail arrived yesterday; and by an article from the Frontiers of Switzerland it seems that some fresh movements have arisen in the lesser Cantons, in consequence of the severity of the French.

Count Schimmelpenninck, the Dutch Ambassador to this country, with his family and suite, landed at Dover on Thursday; and last night, we are informed, that they reached town.

On Thursday Mr. Abraham Newland attended the Omnium Holders, at the Stock Exchange, to announce to them that the Bank Directors had agreed to their application; and that, instead of paying towards the redemption of their Omnium, 40 per cent. on the 21st of January, they were to advance 20 per cent. on the 24th of January (which would assist them 111 after the opening of the Consols,) and the other 20 per cent. on the 16th of April; so the whole payments for the redemption of the Omnium will now stand thus:

On 24th of Jan. 20 per cent.

On 18th of Feb. 30 per cent.

On 18th of March, 30 per cent.

On 16th of April, 20 per cent.

After this communication had been made, the Funds rose about half per cent.

A further account of the Riots at Newcastle:—For this week past, the seamen of this port and at Sunderland, having refused to go to sea unless their wages were advanced to six guineas the voyage, several scenes of violence and disorder were manifested, which all the influence and authority of our Chief Magistrate could hardly repress. To accommodate as much as possible the subsisting difference, and effectually to prevent all future alterations, we understand the Mayor very prudently proposed, that on all occasions the wages of seamen should bear a certain proportion to the price of coals; but whether this principle is to be acted upon, we cannot say. At Sunderland, however, we are informed all differences have been adjusted, and the trade has recovered its wonted tone and vigour. At Shields, several of the ringleaders who had recourse to rioting, have been apprehended. Those sailors who were disposed to act peaceably, have received their demands, and the loaded ships have since proceeded to sea.

Dreadful Fire.

Early on Monday morning the cotton mill, the property of Mr. Denison, and which has been lately worked by Messrs. Oats, Stevens, and Co. situated near Penny-foot Stile, Nottingham, was discovered to be on fire, and notwithstanding the immediate alarm, all assistance was useless; and in two hours this beautiful and extensive building was reduced to a mere shell. No description can do justice to the terrific grandeur of this spectacle: the building which is nearly 120 feet in front, and six stories high, stands insulated, and was one of the greatest ornaments to the South view of Nottingham. In one hour after it was discovered, the whole of this elegant structure was a prey to this devouring element, ninety windows in front pouring forth columns of flame and combustible matter, so as to endanger hay stacks in the meadows at a quarter of a mile distant; and when the roof and cupola fell in, the effect can only be compared to a volcanic eruption. The contrast of this immense and widely diffused light to the darkness of the night, the illumination of the town, castle, and the surrounding villages, and the visible distinctness of the most distant objects in the landscape, produced such a sublime and vivid effect as it will be as vain for the pencil to delineate as the pen to describe.

In Switzerland the Senate has issued a Decree, imposing upon all the Cantons, in proportion to their resources, a War contribution of 900,000 livres (37,500l) for the support of the French troops.—One of the articles of the decree reserves to the Senate the power of the exacting extraordinary contributions from those Cantons, Communes, or individuals, what that body chooses to call the insurrection; upon which subject the executive power is directed to make a report within one month; this decree appears to be intended to throw nearly the whole burden of supporting the French troops upon the unfortunate Patriots, under the pretence of imposing a general contribution upon the whole of Switzerland; thus, not content with depriving the brave defenders of their country's cause of their political liberty, and even imprisoning their persons, the oppressors of Switzerland will make them pay for the chains with which they have loaded them. ALBION REDING and AUF DER MAUR still remain imprisoned in the Castle of Arborg. Deputies from the Cantons are continually setting out for Paris, but the elections are not yet complicated.

Dreadful Shipwreck.

The following letter, respecting the loss of the Dutch Transport the Vrede, is written by a young gentleman, residing at Folkestone, dated November 24:

"Yesterday I witnessed a most melancholy and distressing sight. About seven o'clock in the morning, I beheld the waves running mountains high.

"About one o'clock I observed many casks floating, and the people running along the beach toward the rock, to procure whatever might fall in their way; before I could get to the point, the body of a fine young woman was driven upon the rock, she was entirely naked except one stocking and a leather garter, which was buckled below her knee.

"About a quarter of an hour after another female came in with many different articles such as cartouch-boxes, punchcans, canteens, and soldiers' caps. I heard that the wreck was at a place called Brookman's barn, between Hythe and Dimchurch. I rode over there, and beheld such a spectacle as I hope I never shall witness again. The ship had passed Dimchurch about 8 o'clock in the morning, though the sea was dreadful, and appeared to be all well; about half an hour after she was driven on shore upon the sand; where she stuck fast, and a most instantly parted.—There were upwards of 400 souls on board, out of which, (dreadful to relate) only nine were saved, one of whom died yesterday evening, and three others were not expected to recover.

"I rode for two miles along the coast from the wreck, towards Sandgate, which was covered with punchcans, musical instruments, muskets, &c. as also dead bodies of fine handsome men; the soldiers appear principally to be marines. There has been a great number of them carried away to Hythe Church: in a mile and a half's ride I counted the bodies of 120.

The seamen were observed handing seven or eight females up the shrouds, the most probable means of saving them, but shortly after the mast went by the board, and they were all plunged in the devouring element. There were near 100 poor fellows on a piece of the wreck, and very near shore, when a most tremendous sea, came and swept every one off. A Mr. Kemp, of Hythe, saved one of them from death, by running into the sea. He was very near an officer, and had just got hold of him, when he perceived an amazing swell approaching, with a large piece of the wreck, and had only time to save himself, for immediately the timber knocked out the brains of the officer.—On my return to Folkestone, I found two more women, and two or three infants, had come ashore; I also saw a sweet little girl, this morning, about 8 months old. Not an officer or female is saved; every person here is busy on the beach picking up what they can; some find watches, money, skins, &c.

"It is astonishing that every woman who came on shore are all quite naked."

Another letter on this melancholy subject, dated Dover, Nov. 25, states as follows:

"The Dutch Indiaman Vryheid, formerly the Melville Castle, an old crazy ship, which passed Dover roads in distress, on Monday evening, having lost her mainmast, made signals for assistance, but the pilot boat which put off never reached her, as it came on dreadfully thick and tempestuous, so that she was soon lost sight of. In this helpless situation the crew were unable to keep her off the land, and about one in the morning, she was driven on shore near Hythe, by the fury of the wind. It is supposed that out of the number on board, most of which were troops, and which amounted, with the crew, to above 400, not more than 13 have been saved. Every officer has perished; the floating bodies of the sufferers are as distressing to the eyes, as their shrieks during a dark and stormy morning, were to the ear of humanity; & no attempt could be made to save them, that was not certain to involve in a similar fate all who should undertake it. The captain's wife was on board, and perished with her husband.

The following list of the crew is taken from one of the survivors: Soldiers 320, officers 42, seamen 61, women 21, children 7, passengers 20. Total 472.

The Military Contribution continues to give the greatest dissatisfaction in France. By the regulations, three out of four of all young men, from 21 to 22 years of age, are to serve by lot. All those who have interest, or can pay 25l. to the government, are exempted: but no abatement made on account of this exemption, the whole number that are to serve; those who are too poor to pay 25l. or have no interest, think it hard to be obliged to draw lots who shall serve for the others. On this account, many families in France are at this moment in the greatest affliction. If their sons shall not be slain in battle, or fall victims to the yellow fever, they are sensible that the line of a soldier will unqualify them for other occupations.

Colonel Despard we understand, has been tried the ensuing Sessions at the Old Bailey, which commences this day. He is charged with feloniously, unlawfully, and advisedly endeavouring to seduce Thomas Windfor, being a person serving in his Majesty's forces by land, and others persons also serving in his Majesty's forces by land, from their duty and allegiance to his Majesty, and for exciting and stirring up the said Thomas Windfor, and other persons also serving in his Majesty's forces by land, to commit an act of mutiny, contrary to the laws in such a case made and provided, against the peace of our said Lord the King.

A private letter from Paris mentions that Bonaparte, when he visited the Duc d'Orléans on observing the English colours placed under the French, ordered them to be placed side by side, saying the England ranked with the first nations of the globe, that her people were brave, industrious, and naturally friends to France. The colours of the other nations were hung beneath, except the American which did not appear, and the absence of which is considered as a great offence.

By a decree of the Chief Consul, the table allowance for officers in the navy serving in America, Asia, or Africa, is to be doubled upon their arrival in any of the Colonies.

A report having been falsely spread at Leghorn, that there had been a naval action in the Mediterranean between the Batavian Squadron, commanded by Admiral Winter and a certain number of Barbary corsairs, the following Notes has been officially published.—"The Squadron under Admiral Winter has peaceably traversed the Coasts of Barbary, and has found those regencies in the most amicable disposition towards the Batavian nation."

Monitor.

NEW-YORK, February 4.

Yesterday afternoon a tremendous storm of hail, rain, thunder & lightning was experienced in this city; during which the Olive, capt. Shepherd, from the Havana, as she was coming into the Hook, lost one man, Richard Coome, killed by the lightning whilst he was in the act of hauling the top gallant sail, another badly hurt, and four knocked down. The brig, after coming to anchor in the East River opposite to Coenties Slip, parted her cables, and drifted to Corlaer's Hook where she ran ashore.

Arrived yesterday, the brig Agnes, Shoemaker, in 72 days from Liverpool. Spoke, Dec. 29, in lat. 42, long. 56, an English ship, five days from Virginia for London. February 2, Sandy Hook bearing W. and N. 180 miles, the ship John and Ann, Atkinson, 28 hours from New-York for Sligo, from whom captain Shoemaker received a handsome supply of provisions, which was truly acceptable. Spoke at the same time the brig Jefferson, Adams, from New-York for Sligo. On the 31st ult. saw a ship on shore at Martha's Vineyard.

Came up, as far as the Narrows, the ship Kingston, from London, and 47 days from Falmouth. The Kingston was struck with the squall below the Narrows yesterday, received some injury in her sails and was obliged to come to anchor.

The schr. Hector, Christie, from Port Antonio, (Jam.) The schooner Antelope, Dean, failed 7 days before the Hector; the Hector passed her after she had been out 14 days, in sight of Cape Nicholas. Monday on the N. E. reef of Magueana, Captain C. saw a ship and schooner on shore—sent a boat to the ship, but she had been stripped by wreckers; she had a head, and appeared to be a new vessel. They could not reach the schr., but observed her making signals of distress. As the wind was then fresh from N. N. W. she must have gone to pieces that night, and the crew probably have perished.

The schr. Rising Sun, Ripley, from Antigua. Left about 15 sail of American vessels, among them was the ship

Sally, Smith, 20 leaky, on her passage New-York. A ship ten days from N. C. Fe the brig Taff, 1000, N. C. Pe beet 15, flour 105 per bushel, boards 24.

The school of Medicine at Paris has published, in its transactions, some interesting observations of citizen Delerau Defontaines, physician at St. German, on a living insect which was found in the substance of the liver of a man who died at the age of 33, of a disorder in the stomach and bowels. It is a worm belonging to a genus hitherto unknown; It is about the size of a full grown silk worm, and of a brownish red. The body moves by means of rings, regularly articulated, each articulation being marked with a white point surmounted by a hair of a firm texture, and extremely acute. The head of the insect is armed with a species of horn, and the lower extremity of the body is terminated in a manner similar to that of a lobster.

A Kingston (St. Vincent's) paper of the 18th December, says, "The following account was given us by the brother of Capt. Thomas Hazel, of the sloop Try Again, and we sincerely hope it will not escape the notice of our government:—
On the 4th inst, as the sloop was puffing
by St. Lucia on her way to Martinique, she was fired at and brought too by the French Guarda Costa of that island; the master of which, with some of the crew boarded the Try Again, and robbed capt.
Hazel, negroes and vessel, of every thing
on board. They were not yet satisfied.
They sent her into Fort Royal, where capt. H. and the negroes were imprisoned five days, when they were liberated and allowed to proceed on their voyage.

Blacks and Mollattoes] whose admission is prohibited by certain laws of the state governments, was taken up.

A debate of three hours succeeded—various alterations and amendments were made, and objections stated—the question for engraving the bill was finally taken by Yeas and Nays and carried, Yeas 62, Nays 26. Ordered to be printed and engrossed.

The Speaker read a letter from the Secretary at War, with Documents relating to military land warrants, and military claims. Referred to the committee appointed to enquire into the expediency of extending the time for granting military land warrants, also a document relating to services of the militia, of the state of Georgia. Referred to a select committee of five.

Public Notice.

On Thursday next, at 10 o'clock, at the House of Mrs. Atkins, Prince Street, will be sold,

A VERY LARGE & GENERAL ASSORT-MENT OF

Elegant Prints, Looking-Glasses,
&c. &c.

P. G. MARSTELLER.

Feb. 11.

TO BE SOLD,

At Public Sale, on Thursday the tenth of March,

THE subscriber's life estate, in that valuable FARM, known by the name of the Walnut-Tree Farm, situate on the south side of the river Potomac, about four miles below Alexandria. This farm contains 360 acres, of which about 100 are in wood, and the rest arable. The buildings consist of a two story brick house, handsomely finished, and a two story frame kitchen adjoining the house; a two story frame house for an overseer; a frame quarter capable of accommodating 15 or 20 persons; and a large well built barn, with grainaries, stables, and an extensive shed for cattle. The beauty and salubrity of this situation is exceeded by none on the river Potomac. The arable land is divided into convenient fields, and the soil is good for the production of small grain.
There are on the premises a thriving
young orchard of apple and peach trees,
and about 40 acres of wheat in the ground.

The extent of this farm on the river (being more than a mile) affords an opportunity for an industrious farmer to collect large quantities of manure, and the excellent FISHERY attached to it,
on which are two very good and convenient fish houses, must greatly enhance its value.

At the same time will be sold on the premises (if not disposed of before at private sale) upwards of twenty NEGROES, together with the Stock of Horses, Cattle, Sheep and farming utensils on the place.

The terms of payment to be cash for all sums under one hundred dollars; from one to two hundred dollars, sixty days credit; and for all sums above two hundred dollars, one half in sixty, and one half in ninety days, the purchaser giving approved notes negotiable in the Banks of Alexandria or Columbia.

The Executors of the late Gen. Geo. Washington, offer for sale, the following TRACTS OF LAND, viz.

A tract in Loudoun county on Difficult Run, containing 300 acres. The soil well adapted for farming and a considerable proportion of it might easily be improved into meadow. There is a valuable mill-seat on the premises. It lies on the great road from the City of Washington, Alexandria and George Town to Leesburgh and Winchester, nineteen miles from Alexandria, less from the City and George Town and not more than three from the Great Falls of Potomac.

One tract containing 2,481 acres lying in the counties of Loudoun and Fauquier, called Ashby's Bent. The soil is that which is said to be most favorable to Plaster of Paris, well watered by several never failing streams issuing from the mountain—part of this land is cleared and enanted for lives.

One tract lying part in each of the above counties, containing 885 acres. Chatten's run passes through this tract and gives several valuable mill-seats. The soil is similar to the above tract and equally favorable to Plaster of Paris.

A tract on the South Fork of Bullskin, containing 1600 acres—One at 10, Head of Evans's Mill, containing 453 acres, and one on Wormley's line, containing 183 acres. These several tracts are in Jefferson (late Berkeley county)—the soil very similar in quality, and particularly adapted to the culture of Tobacco, Hemp, Wheat and Indian Corn, situated twelve miles from Harper's Ferry.

One tract containing 571 acres in Frederick county, this land is in the vicinity of the last mentioned tracts and equally valuable.

One tract in Hampshire county containing 240 acres—this tract, though small is extremely valuable. It lies on Potomac river, about 12 miles above the town of Bath (or Warm Springs) and is in the shape of a horse-shoe, the river running almost round it; two hundred acres of it are rich low grounds, with a great abundance of the largest Walnut and other trees, which with the produce of the soil, might (by means of the improved navigation of the Potomac) be brought to a shipping port with more ease and at a smaller expense, than that which is transported only 30 miles by land.

One third part of 1119 acres in Nansemond county near Suffolk, lying in the road from Suffolk to Norfolk and on Nansemond river—this land is considered extremely valuable by those who are acquainted with it.

One tract in Charles county, Maryland, containing 600 acres—it is very level and lies near the river Potomac.

One tract in Montgomery county, Maryland, containing 519 acres—This land lies about 30 miles above the City of Washington, not far from Kettocan and is good farming land.

One tract in Pennsylvania, containing 234 acres—This land affords an exceeding good stand on Braddock's road from Fort Cumberland to Pittsburg and a large quantity of natural meadow fit for the scythe. It is distinguished by the appellation of the Great Meadows, where the first action with the French, in the year 1754, was fought.

One other tract on the Mohawk river, State of New-York, containing 1000 acres.

In North West Territory. Three tracts lying on Little Miami, containing 3051 acres.

In Kentucky. On Rough Creek, one tract containing 3000 acres; ditto adjoining 2000 acres. Indisputable titles can be given for the above lands. Lots in the City of Washington.

Two improved lots near the Capitol square 634. The improvements are, on each an elegant three story brick house.

Four other unimproved lots on the Eastern Branch, No. 5, 12, 13 and 14, in square 667. These lots are advantageously situated on the water.

ALEXANDRIA.

A few valuable lots in Alexandria, corner of Pitt and Prince streets, three or four of which are let on ground rent at 3 dollars per foot.

WINCHESTER.

One lot in Town of half an acre, adjoining Doctor Makay's, enclosed with a good post and rail fence, and an ther in the commons of about six acres. Bath, or Warm Springs.

Two well situated lots, on one of the small building large enough to accommodate one family.

The terms of sale will be made known by application to either of the subscribers.
